L'HÉRAUDE

History of the estate

L'Héraude is one of the region's historic estates. The main building dates from the 18th century and has been completely restored. Its facade of lime and earth from the surrounding fields embodies the charm of Provencal houses of yesteryear.
With a surface area of 15 hectares of forests, holm oaks and pines, a plantation of over 800 olive trees, including some 50 old and very old specimens, a vineyard of almost half a hectare, and a plantation of truffle oaks, l'Héraude is a true estate within an estate. Hidden behind tall trees is an ancient «miellerie», built of dry stone, and at the edge of the wood, the ruins of an old farmhouse comprising a 19th-century dwelling and various farm buildings. It's like following in the footsteps of an 18th-century winegrower.
During the grape-picking season, you can join our teams for a unique experience of picking grapes in the middle of the night. In autumn, it's time to pick the Domaine's olives and leave with your own bottle of freshly pressed oil.
